Suncorp Bank unveils free meeting rooms

Suncorp Bank agribusiness and business customers will be able to book meeting rooms and a boardroom in the new Suncorp Bank Rockhampton Business Centre free of charge.

Three meeting rooms and a boardroom will be professionally furnished and fully equipped with state-of-the-art teleconferencing equipment.

Suncorp Bank Regional General Manager for Central Queensland Troy Constance says it's another way we can support our customers.

"Everybody is aware of the cost pressures in agribusiness and business, this is a service that will help to reduce costs and minimise overheads for our customers," Mr Constance said.

The rooms will provide the perfect setting for conducting meetings or business gatherings for Suncorp Bank customers and their clients.

The rooms will be suitable for small meetings, with the boardroom available for larger gatherings of up to 25 people.

"With a major regional airport just kilometres away, clients of our customers can fly into Rockhampton and within a short period of time be meeting with them in a fully equipped boardroom," Mr Constance said.

Agribusiness and business customers will have free access to the internet, printing and refreshments.

"Businesses can grow when they have a great business location, supported by the latest in technology solutions."

"Essentially this compliments the face to face support we offer through our Local Relationship Managers," Mr Constance said.

Bookings can be made at the Suncorp Bank Rockhampton Business Centre.
